Gets quick relief thru Triple Action

"During a recent blizzard I caught a cough. What a cough! I was miserable. The doctor gave me a bottle of Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. In less than ten minutes I felt after the first swallow—I began to get better. The soreness in my throat, nose and throat disappeared—and very soon I stopped coughing altogether. Smith Brothers' is the great stuff for coughs and colds and night." J. V. Alquist, Rockford, Ill.

To Conduct Annual Farmers' Institute

Albany, Nov. 3 (Special).—The annual farmers' institute for those in charge of farms and stock raising in the county, organized by the Albany County Agricultural Society, will be held December 14-15, at the DeWitt Clinton Hotel. The institute will be held in the afternoon of each day, from 2 to 4 p. m. The total value of the farms is $283,471. Outdoor employment for the week of the institute is furnished on these farms and a fresh food supply for them is thus produced. At the Albany meeting not only a representative of each of these farms will discuss problems which have been presented in the last year but reports will be received and special notices will be taken on subjects of interest. A report will be given on what is called the "non-litter contest." The institutions produced this year over 100,000 pounds of pork, approximately one-half of the amount required for supplying the county. The "non-litter contest" is for the largest production of pigs for one litter of pigs in six months' time. In this contest there are problems of feeding and control of diseases, such as hog cholera, swine typhoid, and especially pneumonia, which is the most serious. The institutions farmers' considerable trouble. This contest in pork production was won last year by the farm at the Rome State School for Mental Defectives. Awards will be given at meeting to the winners in the contest this year. There will also be prizes in the contest this year. There was last year by the St. Regis State Hospital. At all the institutions there is a total of about 800 acres of pigs to be produced. The contest in pork production have yet been harvested, there are some 100,000 pigs in production will be the greatest yet recorded in the history of the county. One of the speakers at the institute will be Dr. J. M. McLaughlin, of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Nelson is an authority on the subject of swine diseases. Other speakers will be from the State College of Agriculture, Ithaca.

Mr. Ryan, in accepting the office for another year, said: "While I feel this appointment should go to another member of the Bureau, now that I am elected as your chairman for another year I fully realize the responsibilities of this office and I shall endeavor in the year to come to serve for the best interests of the Retail Merchants' Bureau."

Charles A. Bennett, chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for the Christmas season, lighting decorations along the lines followed in the past, reported that the lights will be turned on Saturday, December 4, and turned off New Year's night.

It was decided that the stores will remain open until 9 p. m. during the Christmas shopping season, beginning Thursday, December 18, and for the balance of the week.

Ben Weinberg, chairman of the Committee on Advertising, to show the advantages of advertising, said that the plans were progressing nicely and that the time this year would be placed before the public.
