OBITUARY

Mrs. Sterling S. Sherman
The Montrose, Colorado, Daily Press contains an account of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Masters Sherman, which occurred in that city on October 22. Mrs. Sherman was the wife of Sterling S. Sherman, who is a brother of William Sherman of this village, and with her husband has lived here in former years.

Mrs. Sherman was born in Schaghticoke seventy-four years ago. She was married to Mr. Sherman in 1882. All their married life had been spent in Colorado, where Mr. Sherman has been a city and county engineer and county judge. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Edward and Sherman, both of Montrose, and Henry S. Sherman of Fort Collins, Colorado, and one brother, Marshall Masters of Los Angeles.

Let Contract for Laying Pipe.

The division of highways, state department of public works, Friday awarded the contract for the laying of a pipe line across South Bay near Whitehall to Scott brothers, contractors of Rome, the only bidders. The new line will replace the one on the south side of the new bridge which it is said was broken by stones dropped into the bay to form a fill for the bridge. The main is to carry part of the Whitehall water supply from Pine lake to the village. The new line of pipe will be 1400 feet long and at the bottom of the bay and built to stand 175-pound pressure. The contract reads that the work should be done in thirty days.

Purchase Marshall House.

T. Kenneth Bullard, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Bullard of Schuylerville, has purchased the historic Marshall place at the north end of the village of Schuylerville. The Marshall place is one of the many interesting places of historical place in this section, having been the refuge place of Miss Redford and soldiers during the Revolutionary period. Of late years the property has been visited by thousands of tourists interested in Revolutionary history.
