

Mail Room Greet Vacationists

Gold weather with intermittent showers greeted holiday vacationists over the Memorial Day weekend in upstate New York.

Hopeful of improved conditions, thousands of cars from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the New York area made their way northward Friday afternoon and Saturday morning on Saturday, victims of the fact that unfavorable weather for outings was indicated. Those who attempted to camp out ran into foul Saturday. Sunday morning night was somewhat easier, while there was snow and hail in others.

Saratoga Springs received a light fall of Saturday afternoon and there was a hail in the vicinity of George Hartung, Mrs. Earl Towns, the ground. No serious damage was reported.

Wind both Sunday and Monday was unfavorable and many vacationists headed back Sunday, the others spreading out through Monday and Tuesday morning.

State BPW Honors Miss Starbuck

Miss Kathryn H. Starbuck, past state president of the New York State Branch of the B. P. O. E. U. S. Professional Women's Clubs, was honored at the convention which concluded yesterday at Lake Placid. The dinner honoring the 30th anniversary of the club was a testimonial to the past state president.

Miss Starbuck served as president from 1923-1933.

Mrs. Richard T. Maher, local club president, served on the state committee at the convention.

Speakers at the party included Mrs. Theodore Washington, D. C. director of personnel of the International Association of Women, urged development of the human resources of the backward countries.

She contended that "we have not done enough to help the backward world in which people get the best of their lives by using their own people getting into jobs and professions, because we're afraid there are not enough to go around. The needs of life are relatively small—food, shelter, clothing and the opportunity to develop their abilities."

Attending the convention from here were Mrs. Maher, Miss Starbuck, Miss Agnes Carlson, Mrs. Robert J. O'Brien.

CONDITION FAVORABLE

William A. Lawrence, who went to the Saratoga Hospital for surgical attention last week, was reported to be in favorable condition today.

Expecting an operation for hemorrhoids, surgeons who are reported to have removed a small intestine, and operated for hernia at the same time.

T. R. Winship Jr. Takes Bride

MISS AUDORA SARANO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sarano, and her fiance, T. R. Winship Jr., son of Patrimon Theodore R. Winship, the wedding was married Saturday at 1 p.m. at the home of his father and mother in Woodlawn Ave. The Rev. George A. Brock, past president of the New York Episcopal congregation, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gray gardenia and white lace gown with a white sash. Her carriage was of white robes.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Sarano, Dolgellville, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Winship Jr. The bride wore a gray silk dress, grey hat and carriage of yellow roses.

White flowers were used to decorate the home and to form the centerpiece of the bride's table. A buffet luncheon was served after the ceremony.

Mrs. Winship Sr. wore a blue gown.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Dolgellville in the evening. Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York. When they return, they will be at home at 7 Huber, Dolgellville.

The bridegroom is a veteran of World War 2. He was in the Pacific with the 90th Engineers, being active in the Philippines, Okinawa and Japan.

Celebrities View Hoffman Portrait of Mrs. Bullard at Marshall Place Tea

The historic Marshall place headquarters for Baronesse Hoffman during the days of the Battle of Saratoga in 1777, was the setting for a Memorial Day tea at which Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Bullard, present, guests, entertained in honor of the widely known artist, George Davis Hoffman.

The tea was arranged by the Bullards to show the oil painting of Mrs. Bullard by Hoffman, which was exhibited in April at the Art Studio of Mrs. Newman Galleries, 11 East 5th St., New York, and was a most favorable comment from the New York press and the art and magazine.

Celebrities Attended

To the tea came other celebrities, for example, among them, Grand Mrs. Moore, in private life, Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moore, who will be 90 in September, and Frank Sullivan, humorist and writer, of the New York press.

Grand Mrs. Moore, who began to paint early in life, following a long cherished childhood ambition and who has won nationwide recognition, was one of the artists of the portrait. In her inimitable way, she painted the portrait and said, "Oh, you get the shading in so nicely. I've never seen it before."

Grand Mrs. Moore was so pleased with the portrait that she has ordered her portrait to be hung in her home.

The aged artist received one of the nation's highest honors when President Truman presented her with the Distinguished Citizen of the Year, at a program honoring her in Saratoga Springs.

Mrs. Bullard was assisted at the tea by her son, Thomas E. Bullard, and Mrs. James H. Gannon, Saratoga.
