MENTIONED LOCALLY.

—Railroad time-table on first page.

—Extra copies of the STANDARD may be obtained at this office.

—John T. Tate and James M. Russell, of Fort Edward, were in town yesterday.

—F. A. Stewart and James Collins, of West Hebron, were in the village Monday.

—Messrs. John Mahar and McParland, of Hootick Falls, are visiting Wm. Dwyer.

—H. C. Hill and wife, of Greenwich, made the STANDARD office a call last Thursday afternoon.

—Dr. J. H. Ballard met with quite a serious loss yesterday, in the death of a valuable young horse.

—New members will be received and baptism will be administered at the M. E. church next Sunday morning.

—Miss Carleton McLaughlin has gone to Clinton, Oneida county, for a visit of a week or two, with Miss M. E. Carpenter.

—P. A. Lloyd went to Hootick Falls yesterday morning. Ramor says that his return will constitute a part of his wedding trip.

—An extra train will leave here for Saratoga Springs at seven o'clock Saturday evening; returning, leave Saratoga at 10:30 P. M.

—The High school baseball nine have succeeded in raising funds by subscription for the lease of a ball ground, and are now negotiating for one.

—July enjoys the honor of being the only month of the year which has two full moons. They will occur on the 1st and 30th days of the month.

—In descending the stairs in the school building last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. John Murphy accidentally fell and was quite badly bruised.

—An old doctor attributes the alarming increase of Bright's disease, and other affections of the kidneys to the moderate use of ice water in hot weather.

—A sprinkling of strong soap suds with a little dash of kerosene in it on rose bushes makes the little aphids, which turn the leaves white, very unobtrusive.

—Mr. and Mrs. Balston, and Miss Adah Balston, and Mrs. S. E. Dougherty and three daughters, of Brooklyn, arrived at the Marshall house on Friday for the summer.

—The accounts and books of account of Mrs. Sidney Seelye, of Schuylerville, have been left in the hands of M. B. Grippen for settlement. A speedy settlement is desirable.

—A. A. Clark, agent for A. W. Gray's Sons, will call at the Dawley house July 11, and will be pleased to see any who are in want of horse powers or threshing machines.

—A merry party of about forty of Stillwater's brave and fair youth enjoyed a moonlight ride from that village to this one last Wednesday evening. Mine host Dawley entertained them while in town.

—C. J. Reed did at his residence, at Grangerville, Friday, aged seventy-four years. Mr. Reed was formerly a merchant at Grangerville, and had been a resident of the county many years.

—Among other prizes to be given at the Rough and Ready engine company's picnic at Greenwisch, Saturday, a box of cigars will be given to the largest man from this village who attends the picnic. Who'll get it?

—This issue of the STANDARD being so decidedly a school number, our readers will understand this as the reason why they miss some departments this week. Other more than usual discrepancies may be accounted for as owing to a slight illness of the editor.

—Insurance agents say that when coal oil or gasoline is used in stoves, it makes insurance invalid in case of fire, unless the insured has a special permit from the agent of the company in which the property is insured. This is a point that is worth remembering by those who are using coal-oil stoves.

—In our report of the closing exercises of the Victory school, last week, we unintentionally omitted to mention the declamation, "Battle Flags," by Chas. F. Ingalls. No exercise of the evening was more deserving of credit than that of Mr. Ingalls, and with proper training some good work in this line may be expected from him hereafter.

—Post Frank Norton, G. A. R., will hold an ice cream and strawberry festival on the M. E. church grounds, tomorrow (Thursday) evening. Ice cream and strawberries will be served, and good music will adorn the evening. Don't fail to attend; or, if you cannot spend the evening with them, be sure and send them something; the "boys" deserve a rousing benefit.

Round Lake Correspondence.

ROUND LAKE, JUNE 25.

EDITOR STANDARD.—ROUND Lake has assumed a new look of life. Its future is looked for by the development of features originally planned, among other things, as well as the summer home and quiet resort of citizens from the surrounding cities. Good activity has been manifested this spring in building and old cottages have been improved. Tuesday the large and spacious auditorium was completed, and on the 10th of July it is to be dedicated by the Rev. J. P. Newman, with which religious wife is enjoying here. The program for the summer is as follows: July 9 and 10 G. A. R. reunion and field day; Col. G. A. Cantine is to be: Marshal; Corporal James Tanner, orator; Major Richards, from Rochester, poet, and Dr. J. P. Newman is to deliver the memorial address. Soldiers will be lodged free by the association, in tents, etc. Meals furnished them for fifty cents per person. The Sunday school convention, conducted by Rev. H. C. Farrar and B. Loomis, commences July 14 and continues until the 27th of the same month. The regular yearly camp meeting commences August 11 and holds session until the 20th. There is a fair prospect that Dr. Newman, assisted by Miss Lydia Von Pinklestein, of Jerusalem, will give an original week in August. This will be a fine exhibition of eastern curiosities and customs of oriental life. Yours Truly, J. D. ROGERS.

The Methodist Sunday School.

For two weeks ago last Sunday, the generally observed Children's day, the M. E. church Sunday school here prepared a variety of exercises, for both morning and evening services, but on account of the storm which was the arms of the school, it was thought best to postpone the evening concert. Accordingly, on last Sunday the school was again decorated with flowers, and in the living and mounted birds (the latter two of which were loaned from the loaned through the kindness of Dr. Styles) the auditorium making a delightful scene; and the school was presented and was addressed by Pastor Fallon in his usual and apt and interesting manner. The singing and reading by the school were very enjoyable; a novel feature of some of the latter was the asking of questions by the school and the replies by the superintendent, thus reversing the usual order. A solo by Miss Aggie Chapman, with clear and sweet voice, was one of the enjoyable features of the program. The recitation by Grace Wadsworth, was much enjoyed, and was well spoken, Miss Gracie's recitations being particularly good. Gestures by Bertha and Clara were also very good. Also excellent, while Master Ben Bestall proved himself a perfect little orator. In a scene by five little girls of Mrs. Walter Russell's class pleased the congregation, and the singing of five girls and two boys selected from various classes was much enjoyed, and was creditable to the little vocalists. Mary McKelton recited the 23d Psalm very prettily. After some remarks by the superintendent, explaining the object of the Children's Fund, a collection was taken for that object, among the school and congregation, and a little over fourteen dollars were raised. The solo by Miss Anna Wadsworth, both by its own plaintive melody and Miss Atwell's skilled rendering, impressed her hearers much. The closing song, with the solo in the piano, was very successfully terminated the evening's exercises.
